Overview

The year is 3000 A.D and Christians have been raptured.

Despite this, a considerable population of Christians have been left behind in Purgatory. These Christians are confused and do not see the error of their ways in how they have treated others during the time before the apocalypse. A man named Joseph leads these Christians and plans to wage war. He meets a girl named Eve, who he finds near the Garden of Eden. He offers to cleanse her of her sins if she becomes his wife, however, Eve refuses. She finds that she has some powers that awaken within her that help her battle Joseph and get away from him safely.

After she escapes, Eve comes across Lilith, who fills her in on what has happened to Earth. She explains that Satan is the ruler of Hell, however after being hated for so long, they have become anxious and tired and therefore has pushed their duties of retaining order in Hell to the Seven Deadly Sins.

Lilith and Eve wander around the circles of Hell, trying to find someone who can help them contact Satan as there is a great war brewing between the Sins. Meanwhile....

Joseph, a master engineer has created his finest piece of robotics. Through a blend of biology, technology, and a miracle from Gog, he is able to create Jesus, reborn as a robot. He considers Jesus his son, and train and programs him to become the ultimate fighting machine.

Warning: this is a cautionary tale, in a series of volumes. This only provides a brief overview of the history of this world. This text has been translated for anyone who finds it and its volumes that detail its specifics have been lost throughout the world. Keep this book secret as there are some that still blindly follow him. Do not trust them.

The layout of this world is an Earth that has been changed to match the layout of Hell.

There are four main sections: Limbo,

Purgatory, The Isle of the Blessed, and its main part The Circles of Hell.

Limbo is where people who do not believe in Christianity have ended up. As many of their souls are innocent they do not belong in one of the Circles of Hell.

This has been deemed by Satan.

Despite this, if anyone of other religions has committed heinous acts, they have been deemed to the Treachery circle of Hell.

Purgatory is where the majority of un-raptured Christians have ended up. They were not admitted into Heaven by God as they still are unworthy of being in His presence. They have sin that must be absolved. Many of the Christians that have ended up in Purgatory are intolerant of others, and have gone so far as to commit crimes of hate and spread injustice. They must repent and pay for this sin before they are allowed into Heaven, that is, if they are allowed at all.

Purgatory is also the location of the fabled Garden of Eden, where Adam resides.

The Circles of Hell are where the Seven Deadly Sins and Satan reside. Though there are a few true sinners that reside in these circles the majority of their residents were placed here at God's whim.

Not much is known about the Isle of the Blessed. No one can enter or exit it, however it appears to be a paradise...

Political

The politics of Hell are complex and tricky to get into.

Satan appointed the Seven Deadly Sins to rule over their own factions, appropriately named after themselves. Each sin wants a greater piece of land than they were given and therefore the demons that reside within these factions are constantly at battle with each other.

Satan does not care about the politics and rules that are enforced by the sins, only choosing to focus on his area, Treachery. Along with this, the Sins would like to unite and take over Satan as rulers one day. This is before Eve shows up, who uses her knowledge and skills to persuade the Sins to stop warring against each other and unite against Joseph.

Joseph rules over Purgatory, as no one had laid claim to it before him. He considers it a holy land and utilizes other Christians to prevent demons and other main characters from Hell from setting foot on "his" land. He plans to take over Hell in the name of God and is gearing up to fight a war against Satan, Lilith, and Eve.

Eve

Eve is the main character of this tale. She is in fact THE Eve from the Bible, however she has been reincarnated into a modern version of herself. Eve is 24 years old, and is a recent college grad. She begins her journey in Purgatory, near the Garden of Eden, ironically. Eve finds the constant battle of having caused original sin through temptation and also the struggle to do good and live life without sin within her.

She eventually finds Lilith, who helps her find Satan, in order to unite the Seven Deadly Sins and His Unholyness to battle against the Christians.

Eve starts her journey out very naive. In the previous Earth, her family did not accept her sexuality as she is a Lesbian. They raised her in an extremely religious household, and shunned her when they found out about her sexuality. She does not want to get involved in politics and does not want to take a stand. However as she gets more invested in this new Hellscaper, she finds herself feeling more free than she did when Earth was "normal".

Lilith has been scorned by people her whole life. She was the first wife of Adam, but due to her independence, she was shunned. Lilith has lived in Hell for centuries, and is Pansexual. She has had an on-off relationship with Satan, but when she meets Eve she falls horns over heels for her. She helps Eve unite Hell by using her knowledge and wit. She is strong willed, determined and is fiercely loyal to those she cares about.

Lilith

Angel remains as one of the most mysterious characters in this tale. He sometimes appears in visions to Eve.

Angel

Satan

Satan is tired of being demonized by everyone. They have absolutely given up on ruling Hell. Because of this they have split up Hell into factions that are ruled by the Seven Deadly Sins. They lock themselves in their castle and refuse to interact with the outside world frequently.

For this reason Lilith is their closest friend and is one of the only people who knows them.

Satan is featureless as they are abstract in concept. They shift appearances for everyone that meets them, so no one knows their true form. For this reason, they also identify as Non-Binary and Gender Fluid.

Jesus encompasses the spirit of the true Jesus, his namesake, however was created by Joseph to fight against Satan and the other residents of Hell in order to gain entry into Heaven. He is a half-human half robot, and was created by a combination of science and a miracle bestowed to Joseph by God. He is programmed with the rhetoric of the Bible, and interprets it in the way Joseph wants him to. Because of this he is very binary in his thinking and exacting of punishments.

Jesus has a moral conflict within him. On one hand, he has a very strict and skewed moral compass instilled in him, via Joseph's programming. Along with this, the true spirit of Jesus within him fights for him to challenge this and become forgiving and accepting of all. This internal conflict is one he battles with throughout his life.

Joseph is a Televangelist and also a pro robotics engineer. After not being part of the rapture he turns his focus to spreading his word to the other Christians left in Purgatory, who he now considers his flock. He now believes its his life's mission to kill Satan and everyone who does not believe in Christianity for God. For this reason, he mixes his knowledge of engineering and the word of the Bible to recreate his perfect version of Jesus.

God has done their job, or so they feel. They performed their duties successfully rapturing Christians, providing them an endless paradise, "Yada Yada Yada". They feel absolutely tapped out in their responsibilities, and decide the last of their acts is to grant Joseph a miracle. After this they decide to act as a cold ruler who does not pay attention to the needs of his flock.

This is also why he decides to carelessly put many Christians in the circles of Hell on a whim. As they are abstract in form and concept, they are faceless, and shift to every person's view of them. For this reason they identify as Non-Binary.
